

Forsyte IT Solutions

Microsoft's leading provider of Identity Management, Data Protection, Email Security, and Threat Protection.

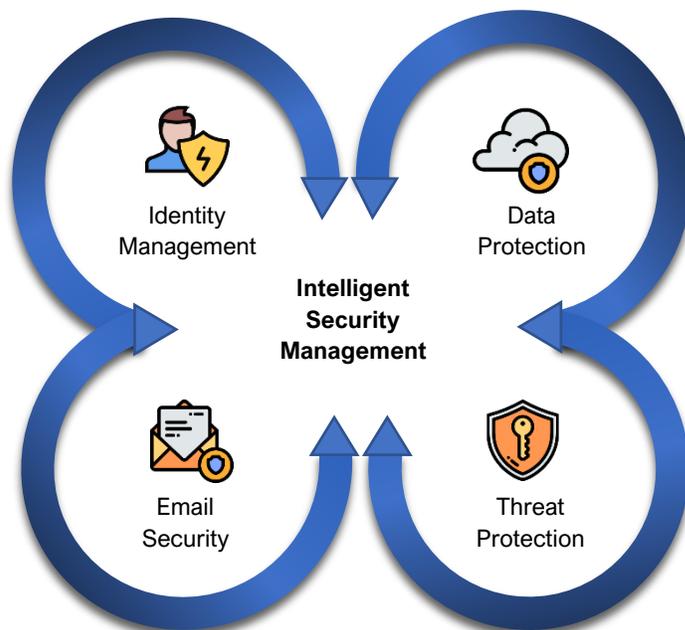

To survive in today's connected, technology-driven world, organizations are faced with ever increasing security management challenges. Deploying an effective security management practice is an essential component of any organization's long-term strategy regardless of the industry. Forsyte's holistic approach to security spans identity and access management, threat protection, information protection and security to ensure that your organization has the tools and knowledge to best protect your most important assets: your people and your data. We call this Intelligent Security Management.

An effective security management solution is not about a single console. Effective security management integrates where it counts, but also offers specialized tools for different functions.

Our goal is to ensure that your teams have the flexibility and freedom to manage security based on the unique needs of each component, whether it is identity, devices, apps or infrastructure. To accomplish this goal, we specialize in the following security solutions:

- Identity & Access Management
- Phishing Prevention
- Advanced Threat Detection
- Cloud Application Security
- Window 10 Hardening
- Endpoint Protection
- Mobile Device & Application Security
- Management of Administrative Privileges
- Multifactor Authentication & Conditional Access
- Information Protection
- Data Loss Prevention & Digital Rights Management

Our Security Management Approach

Many large organizations have dozens of different security vendors inside their networks. Every different product will have separate management systems, often with limited connectivity to work alongside others.... thus slowing down response and remediation times. This results in the ironic situation of having more security devices in your network which results in making it less secure. The team at Forsyte will help you regain viability and control over your security management imperatives. Whether your assets are deployed in the cloud, on-premises or a across a hybrid environment, Forsyte will ensure that you have the best solutions and configuration to manage your identity, devices, applications, data, and infrastructure.

Contact: 844-587-4535 | info@forsyteit.com | www.forsyteit.com